WELCOMING ALL new ideas, faces, and alot of change every student including Michael Alexander, a football player, excitedly talks to senior Maurice Grant as they enter the school.

SIGNS OF CHANGE: old things pass away such as this sign that for years introduced our school to the community. It was situated on Warwick Blvd, and a familiar sight to motorists.

CHANGE OF HEART

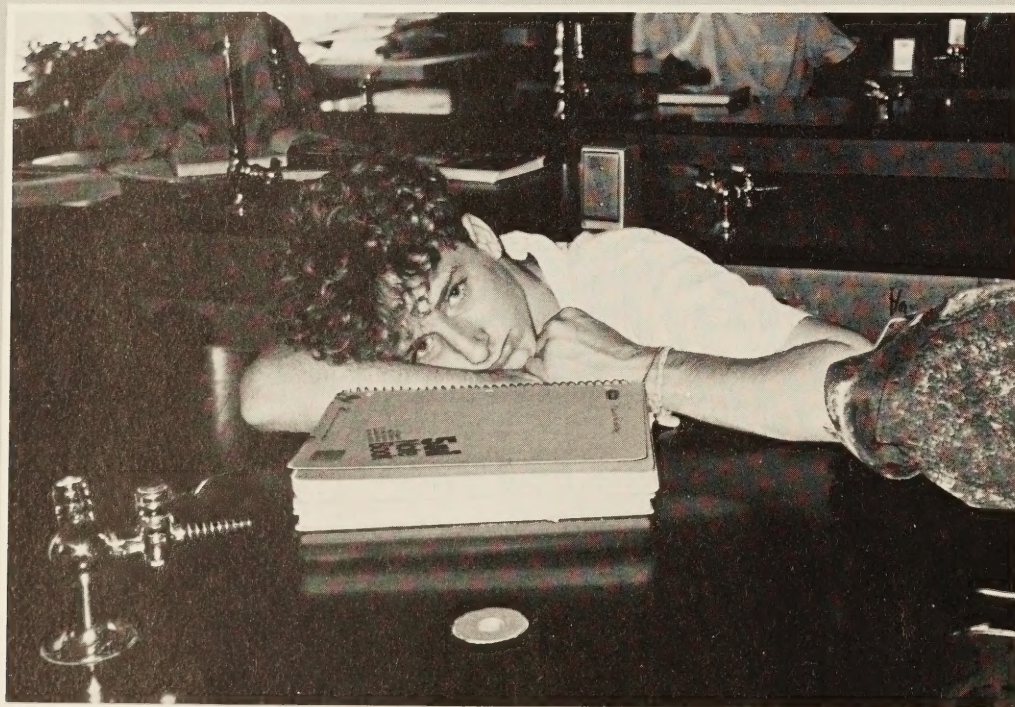

On September 6, 1988, an exuberant host of young people flooded the halls for another school year. Veteran Raiders arrived with enthusiasm and high expectations. We didn't realize that a change in leadership would bring about many other changes. Our beloved principal, Richard Stacy, had retired. A stranger to us, Jackie Diggs, had replaced him.

We had been so comfortable with Mr. Stacy. He was a father figure, kind and happy, who called us by name and knew us by reputation. He seemed to greet us at every corner, smiling and always striving to find the best in us.

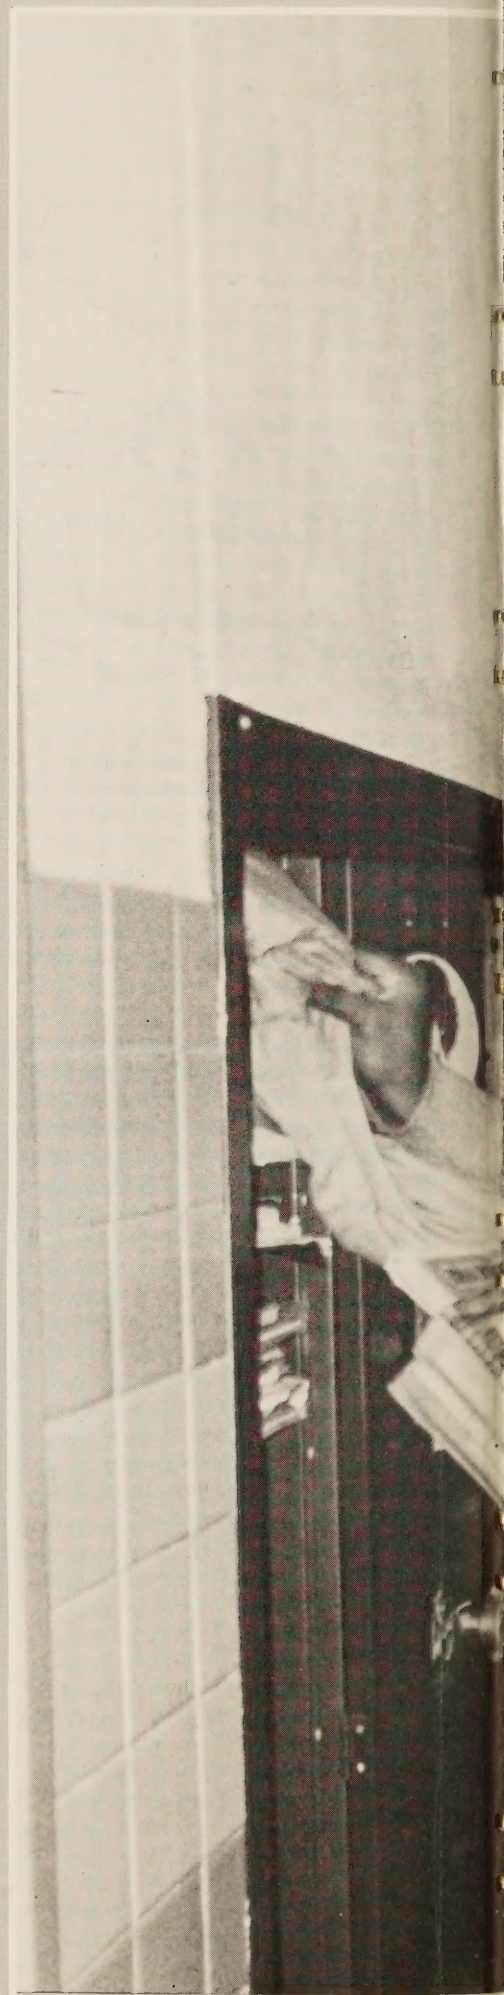

With Mr. Diggs we were apprehensive. He didn't know our names, what we liked or what we wanted. There were rules and rules and rules ----- new rules, old rules with cobwebs dusted off ----- so many rules.

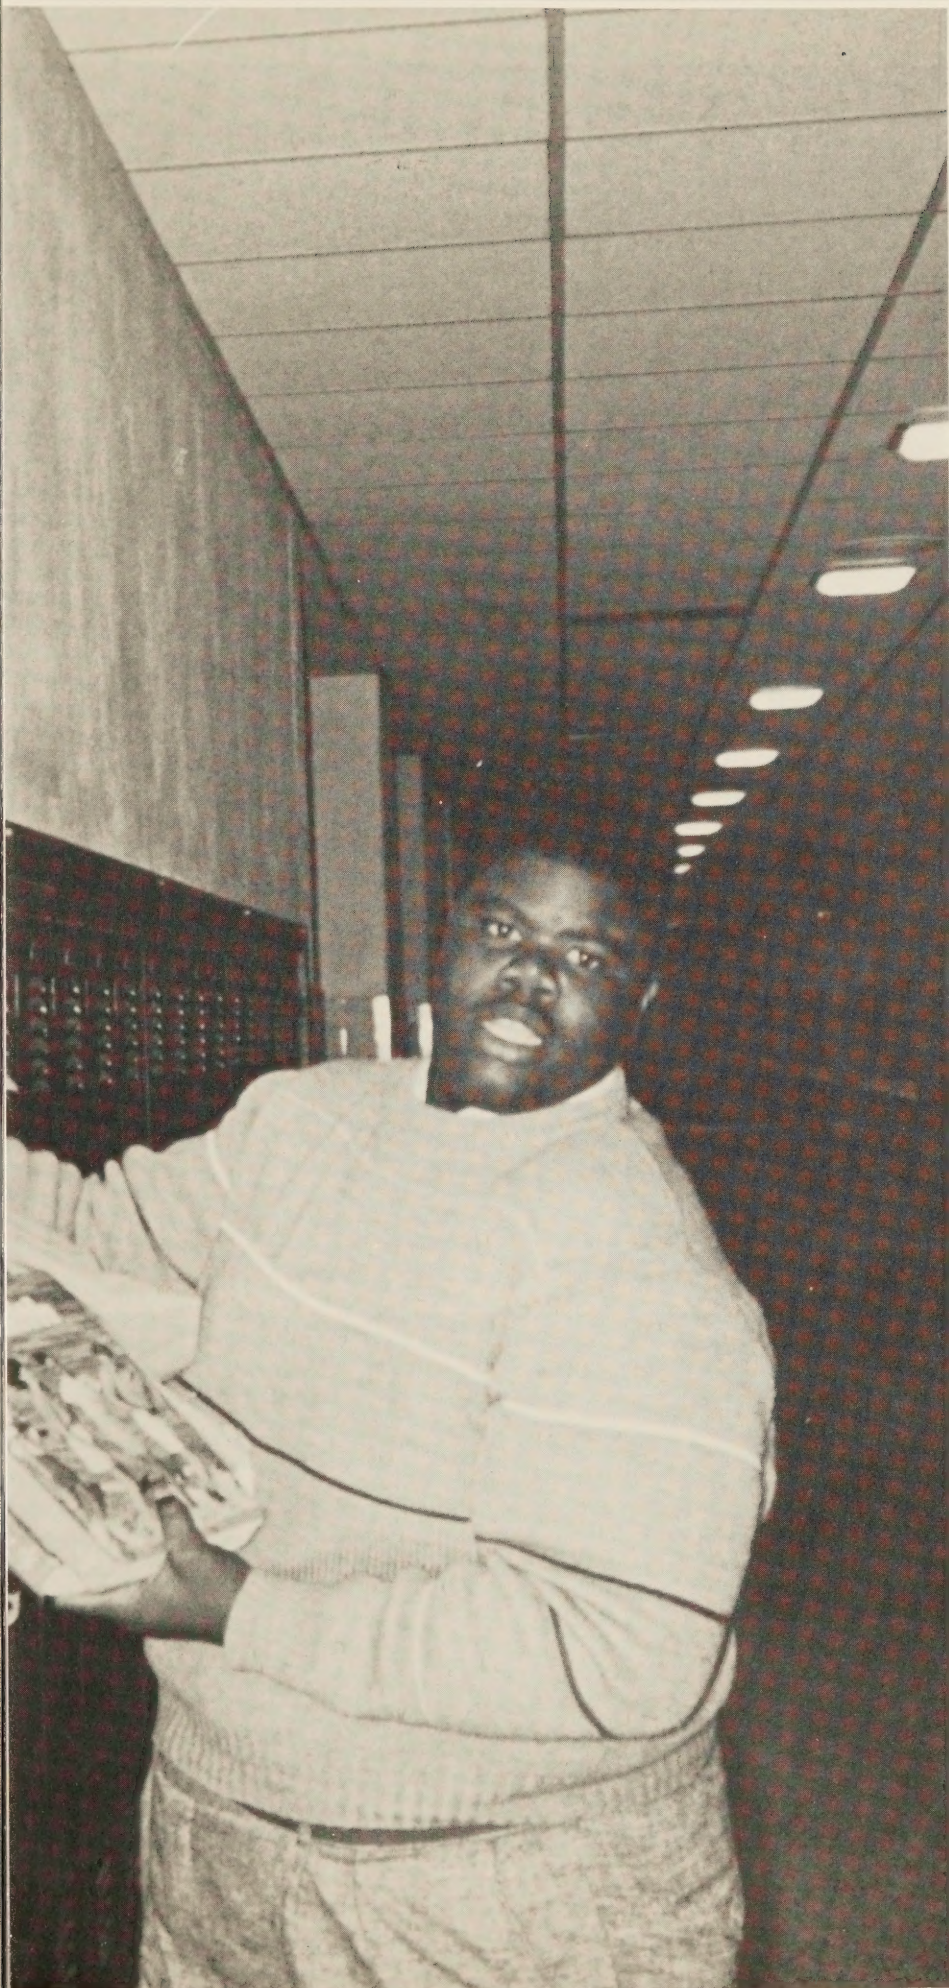

Mr. Diggs seemed to want things we didn't understand. We felt lost, empty, negative. In discussions he said, "I know that Warwick is among the best, and it is my goal to see that the Warwick family, as well as the community, know this". He wanted us to be the the best. The new rules were designed to keep us in class working hard and raise our academic standards. He was preparing us for life after high school.

Everything changes with time. Mr. Diggs helped us to see that change can be good. It became easy to MAKE THAT CHANGE once we had a CHANGE OF HEART.

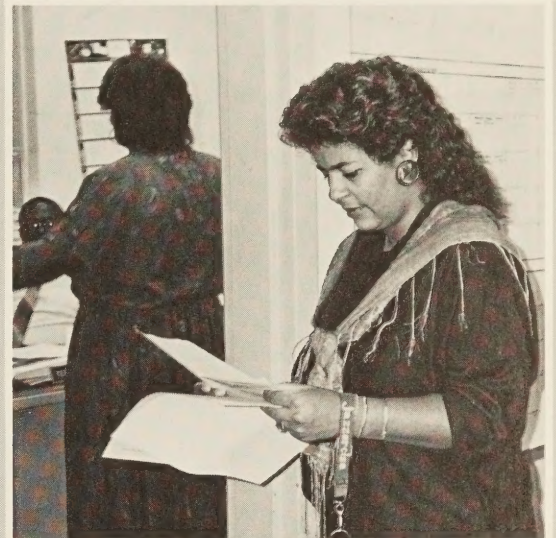

HEAD DOWN but not out, Jason Debose watches an oceanography movie in his sixth period class.

MASTER OF ALL, Robbie Puryear, an energetic sophomore and excellent student is the president of the sophomore class, sings in the choir and plays JV football.

DRAMA PRODUCTIONS headed by Mrs. Swann need special planning. Here she studies the calendar hoping to get the best dates for her plays.

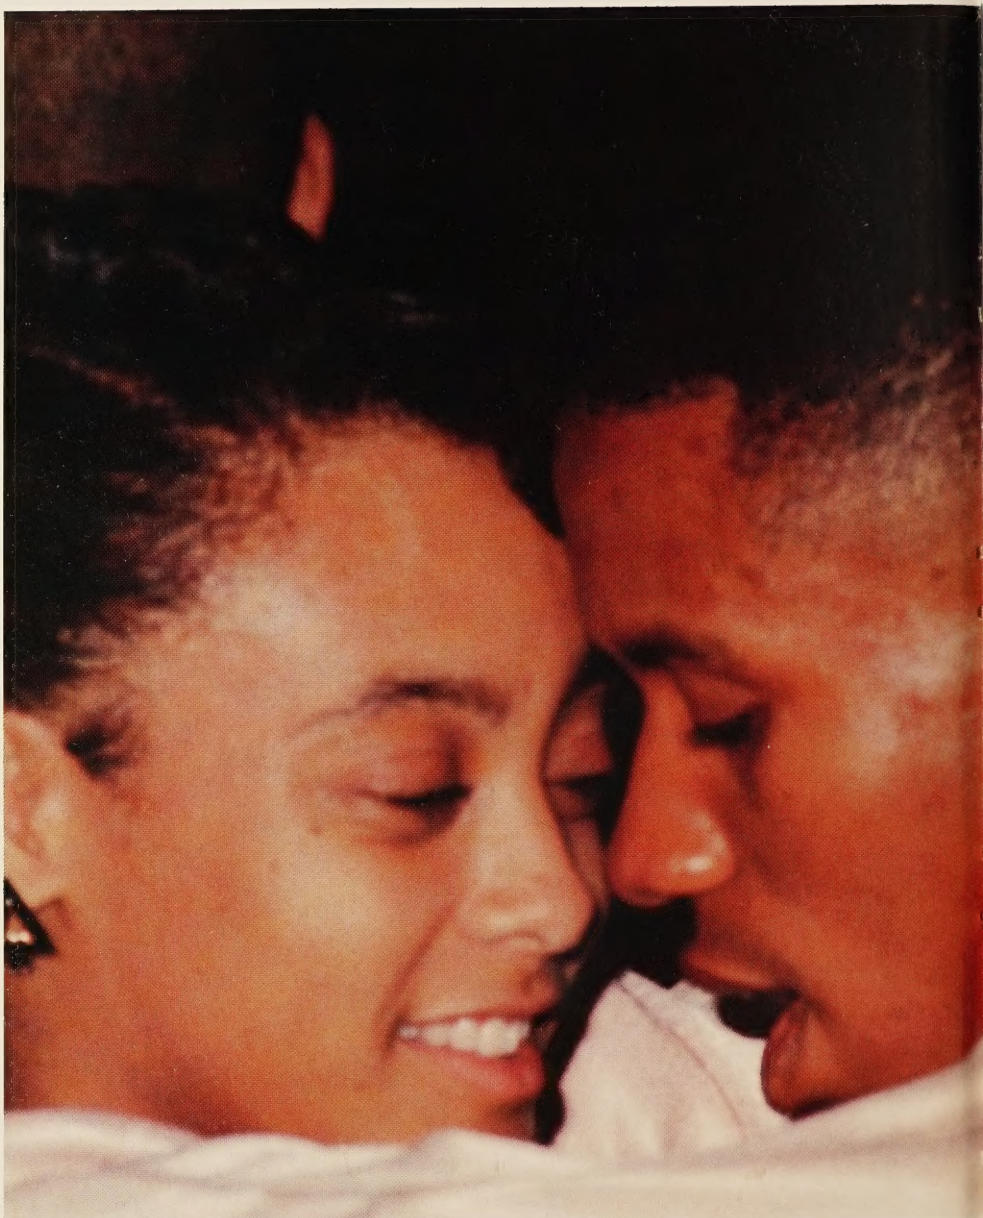

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS show their support at all varsity and JV games. Cara Rich watches as the JV wins again.

A NIGHT TO REMEMBER — Aretha Combs and date Eric Richardson had dinner at Quincy's. Eric gave Aretha flowers to match her pink dress. They attended the dance from 8:30 until 11:30 and their night ended in Virginia Beach where the couple and some close friends "had the time of their lives."

HAPPILY REPRESENTING the eleventh grade Ebony Pittman is being escorted by Benjamin Atkins, an ROTC senior. This is Ebony's third year on the court.

THAT'S WHAT FRIENDS ARE FOR rang through the auditorium as the chorus sang for the homecoming assembly. On stage are Robbie Puryear, Melissa O'Bier, Keith Tongier, Kerry Boston, and Kelly Russell.

Celebration Plans

The third week of October was full of activities in preparation for a successful homecoming. Bright and early plans for the semi-formal dance held in the cafeteria began with the sale of tickets. Mrs. I. Lee and her cheerleaders started working on the pep rally to show our football team we care. Keyettes took orders for homecoming mums to promote school spirit. Ten excited young ladies were getting ready for the court presentation assembly.

Always There For Me
by Linda Williams
Dedicated to Tammy Futnell

Before you came along, I didn't know what would lie ahead. My mind was locked, almost dead. You had the key to open this door — No one else took the time before. You've helped me to laugh, you've helped me to smile, something that I thought I'd lost for awhile.

You have opened my eyes and taught me to see that there is more to life than negative things. You've given me a positive image within; I couldn't have done it if you weren't my friend.

Thanks for the times we shared, and the many to come. I want you to know that you will always be #1. Through thick and thin you were there, never complaining or losing your care. Now that you know how I feel, you know our friendship is for real.

NO SECRETS between juniors Linda Williams and Tammy Futnell, they tell each other everything. Linda says Tammy is always there for her; that's a best friend.

REASON FOR HOLDING HANDS: When your best friend Jennifer Stevens tries to put bunny ears behind your head. Barbara Higgins, a tennis player does homework during a match.

PART OF THE IN CROWD, Wilbert Stith stops to talk to Kevin Riddick and Mark Bryant after homecoming assembly.

WAITING TO BE ANNOUNCED Alicia Artis escorted by Kendall Hicks is one of the eleventh grade attendants for the court.

LT. COMMANDER Eric Jones parades with senior attendant Courtney Hodges.

Jennifer's reign

Or should it be rain? Homecoming was a disaster. The old saying 'when it rains it pours' was in full effect that Friday. All hopes of a parade, homecoming court and that great half time show by the band were destroyed. Don't ask Chris Bender or any club member who planned to participate in decorating for the parade about their night. They bought all this paper for streamers and tons of balloons to decorate their cars and couldn't use any of it. All and all it looked like it was going to be a dismal night.

The rain scared away many people who planned on going to the game. Only the true school-spirited came out to show their support. Though few in number, the spectators that night rallied for the school and will remember for a long time the excitement of the ten member court presented on the field with the added dignity of the uniformed ROTC. Jennifer Hughes crowned queen surely will never forget.

TEARFUL FRIEND, Kim Joyce was filled with joy for newly crowned queen Jennifer Hughes while buddy Jennifer Kanter offers her smile and hug. Later, a party given in honor of the reign took place at the Wircenske home.

POISED AND STATELY Jennifer Hughes stands with Mr. Diggs after the crowning ceremony. Mr. Diggs, our new principal, has a lot to remember, too. This is his first crowning.

Straight from the heart

TERRIFIED BUT DETERMINED Wanda Gray gave blood along with countless numbers of others making this an outstanding showing for the collection of pints. When asked what she was thinking Wanda replied, 'God, please don't let it hurt!' All Wanda wanted was for it to be over. She wanted to back out, but didn't because she had set this as a goal and was determined to accomplish it.

GETTING READY Shannon Sledge and Becky Sutherland are Keyettes putting in their own personal donation. Many students took time out from classes to work all day. Shannon and Becky's job was to put a stamp on the bags used for the collection. This turned out to be a memorable day in that we collected 107 pints of blood which exceeded last year's totals.

HOW DO YOU SPELL RELIEF? Vanessa Williams knows because this ordeal is over for her. She is in the Canteen getting brownies and cookies made by the Keyettes.

APPREHENSIVE AND WAITING Henry Kim and KC Spencer have had their temperature and blood pressure taken and are ready to actually give blood.

IT WON'T HURT A BIT is what Brian Millard heard as the nurse prepares his arm by looking for a big vein.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER like senior, Chris Crowder helped donors who fainted. Chris has worked with Red Cross for a long time helping at many city functions.

SPIRIT

MOTHER'S CONCERN is shown as Mrs. Kirk watches her son Austin in the game with Hampton while Mrs. Fran Scott, a guidance counselor, cheers the team.

#10 ON THE SPIRIT SCALE Robin Woolfolk with vitality and energy always bubbling 'puts spirit together at this school'.

TONGUE TWISTER Drady Moore is Granny's granddaughter. Drady is a tenth grader and her grandmother is present at all Warwick functions to take pictures.

We've Got It

I'LL MISS WHS. Stephanie Howell (Center), a senior, was asked how she felt about Warwick. She responded, 'In the class of '89 we're not only closing an old life, but an old year. We're proud to be the last class of the 80's. We went to the top and we're the last of the best.' The mum she is wearing was given to her by Sylvester Cooper. (Above) Brothers James Griffin and Tom Griffin watch and cheer at the pep rally.

PRISTINELY PRESENTING in the mock example of Menchville's homecoming court are Mike Alexander and Mike Charity two of our more manly varsity football players.

GOOD DISPLAY of Raider power Cara Rich performs an outstanding hurkey. A number of alumni are cheering in the background making for a true homecoming.

Silly question!

Ask a student what's the best time of the day, 9 out of 10 say lunch.

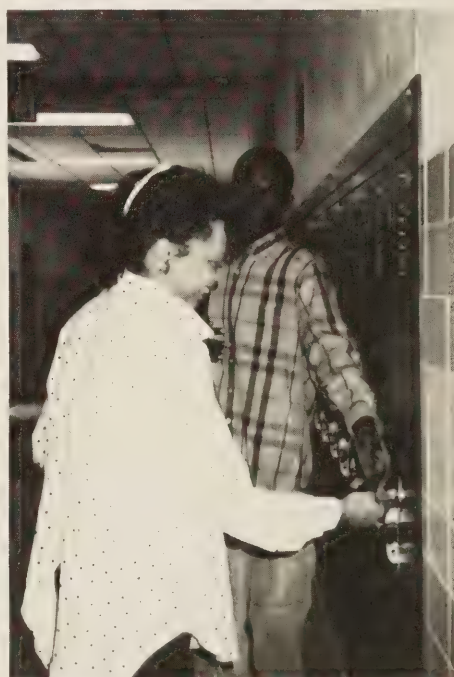

A SPECIAL MOMENT Ivy Hamby and Joseph Mounts are often seen eating lunch together. They met as juniors and have been dating over a year. They look so happy, hopefully this will continue after high school.

STAYING HEALTHY and saving a little money, Amy Hinton, a ninth grader, decides to bring a salad from home. She joins her friends everyday in the cafeteria.

A STUDENT FAVORITE, the traditional hamburger, can be purchased everyday. Cortina Travis is a junior.

AS USUAL, Robert Coleman (on left), a senior, elects to stay in school during lunch, found surrounded by his friends Kelly Hall, Amy Hinton, Amy Hyatt, and Fred Sage.

LIKE A GENTLEMAN Richard Perry helps Trinette Snead open her locker. Or is he being playful again?

KIN AT WARWICK: Cousins Kwamie Hardy and Dexter Hardy walk with Martin Gardner. Martin is being a true friend and lending Kwamie a dollar for lunch.

STUDYING IN THE HALL Shannon Sledge and Gary Forrester try to get to afternoon classes prepared. Many students use their time wisely.

LOOKING UP TO David Golden is an common occurrence. David, a star basketball player, is 6 ft. 6 in. tall. Stephanie Howell thinks of David as her big brother.

A Week of Red

A rumor spread through the halls about red ribbon week. No knew what this rumor concerned. On Monday, October 24 Mrs. Ivy Lee came over the P.A. with a blast of news.

The news informed us of "Red Ribbon Week"; a drug free week. After we heard we realized why there were red decorations everywhere. There were even balloons on the roof.

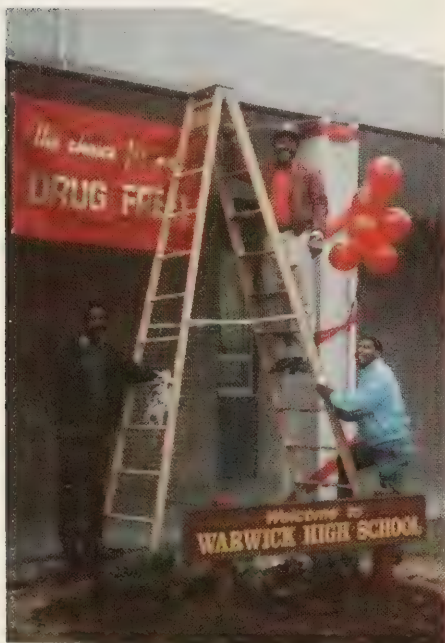

That morning the Keyettes and National Honor Society passed out ribbons and pins to anyone willing to sign a petition to be drug free. Eleven hundred students and teachers signed the petitions which were hung in the main hall.

The next activity included the whole school. The students and staff were to wear red on Wednesday. The turn out was terrific! Seventeen classes had one hundred percent show of red, and all of the staff showed their support of drug free week.

The week ended on Saturday when the whole football team wore red arm bands during their game. Thanks to the Lyon's Club for enabling us to participate in this special week. Better than anything else, this week drew the school together.

PUT THEM ANYWHERE? Obviously Ivy Hamby and Deirdre Terry had some pretty wild ideas when told to decorate school with balloons. The Keyettes were one of the many clubs who sponsored drug free week.

HIGH UP on the ladder Mr. French, Mr. Walker, and Mr. Jones pitched in at 6:30 a.m. Monday to decorate our school for the week.

The Choice For Me Drug Free

This is a warning to all the drug users out there from Yulexious Banks, Alicia Artis, Nicole Ridley.

Drugs are not the answer to the problems we face. We have different kinds of problems each and every day. But what do we do; we just run and hide or we run to the drugs like it helps us survive. Stop being a fool and use your head before I see you in a gutter. Bang bang your dead. It's your life your choice.

Drugs! Drugs! Drugs!

You've got little kids about 11 and 12 out there on the corner trying to make a sell. You think cocaine is hip but you are wrong.

Cocaine is hype you keep messing with it you're going to end your life. I know you want to try it so your friend can think you're down. You get real high and try to beat the town. You get bum-rushed when you're walking alone. You better get off those drugs! Your mind and bodies are your own. Relax take a chill pill you're up on the dope and you're acting real ill. Trying to impress will come back hard with the wack situation of using drugs.

Drugs! Drugs! Drugs! It's your life your choice!

This rap was written for Warwick to say "No!"

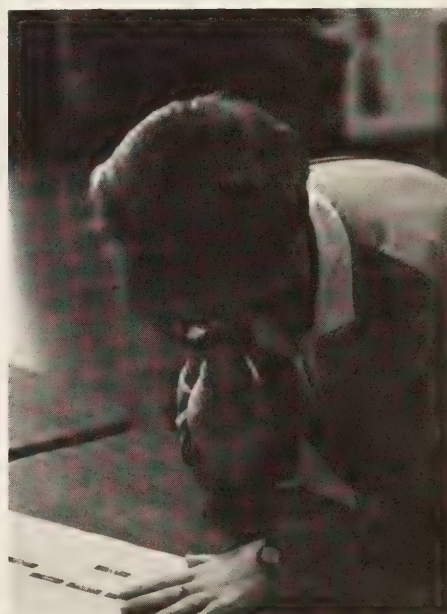

COMPLETELY FINISHED? During the mock election, Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Sloan work very hard to make sure each student completes the ballots.

Warwick for Bush

For many students, the mock election was the first opportunity to see how the election process works. The outcome was that students learned about the responsibilities of registering and voting. Events included a debate that was aired on a local T.V. station, as well as, a survey conducted by Mrs. Laubach's classes to analyze the political interests and involvement of the people who live in the community.

NO SMILES HERE: All students like Dawn Long take the questions dealing with our future seriously as they vote.

WHAT WATERWORKS? Many students, like Lisa St'Ours showed expressions of confusion when reading the referendum.

HMMMM ... BUSH OR DUKAKIS? John Perry, in deep concentration, decides his choice of president and other issues on the mock ballot.

Our play time!

BOOK WORM Shaba Bell is one of those outstanding students who works hard and plays hard. She 'dropped everything to read' while in Genetics.

FAMILIAR SIGHT Earlene Lassiter talks on the phone during lunch along with many other students. Students spend long hours on home phones, also.

TRUE LOVE! Taryce Boyd and Callis West are well known as love birds. They have been going together since the ninth grade and always celebrate their anniversaries.

MEETINGS HELD AT LUNCH on the grounds are relaxing for Mike Tongier, John Robertson and Will Miller. Groups of friends can always be seen outside on warm days.

4 WHEELIN' KC Spencer rides his 4 wheeler on the weekends and after school. His neighborhood recognizes this familiar sight.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY, HONEY. Billy Cox and Tish Mitchell met in the 4th grade. Billy took her to Darryl's on their first date and to celebrate their anniversary.

FASCINATION is what Dawn Long feels for sharks. She loves sharks and hopes her career will be centered around them. This year she is taking marine biology.

Kevin Bowen, a senior, and Jennifer Diehl, a junior, take time out to pose for a picture after their dinner date. They have been dating since May of 87.

Miracles made here

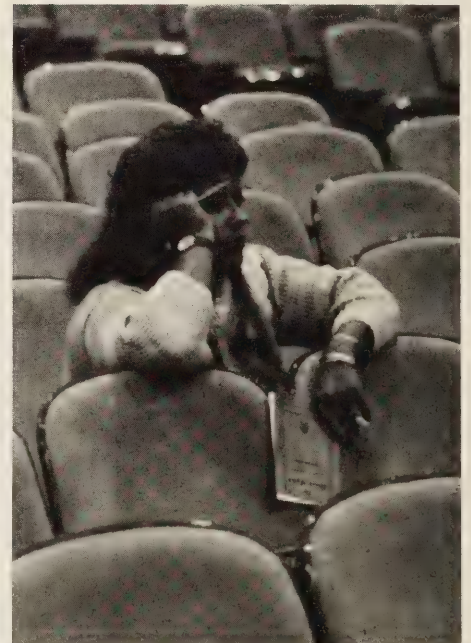

EMPATHY GOES ALONG WAY as Helen, Jessica Smith, receives comfort from Katie Keller, Jennifer Camacho, concerning her defects in a scene from "The Miracle Worker".

Thanks to much time and effort, this year's fall production, "The Miracle Worker", was a complete success. The story, which dealt with the childhood of Helen Keller and her teacher Annie Sullivan, was directed by Mrs. Medina Swann and student-director Mary Harrington. The drama was one of the most professionally handled plays Warwick has ever seen.

The set, largely possible due to loans made by local antique shops, was decorated with 19th century furniture. The costumes, also 19th century, were borrowed from Christopher Newport College's costume department. Set building was accomplished by the department of Technology Education, and Sight and Sound crews worked long and hard to get the stage lighting perfect. So, thanks to everyone, who in any way, helped make this play the success it was. by John Keeter

BATTLING OVER HELEN'S REBELLION: Annie Sullivan, Robin Woolfolk, argues with Captain Keller, John Keeter while Jimmie, David Richardson, (seated) eggs them on.

STAGING MOVES AND ACTIONS of the actors and actresses in a scene, Mrs. Medina Swann is in complete concentration. Intent on making a successful production, Mrs. Swann often felt the frustration.

MANY DAYS OF PRACTICE were spent reviewing lines. John Keeter and Jennifer Camacho go over a scene with Mrs. Swann. Although it was tiring, the payoff was well worth it.

BLOCKING MEANS SEVERAL THINGS: Jennifer Camacho reviews her blocking with Jessica Smith during a rehearsal. Everyone had to know exactly where each actor or actress would be at any given time.

'SHE NEVER MAKES A SOUND', says Katie Keller, Jennifer Camacho to Captain Keller, John Keeter, as she calms baby Helen in the first scene of the play. It is in this scene the Kellers discover Helen's defects.

Captain Keller rushes to greet his guest, Helen's teacher, while Viney, Mary Harrington, the house-keeper, rushes him along. Mary, also the student director for the play, gained valuable experience.

John Keeter and Jennifer Camacho rehearse a scene of struggle with their stage-daughter Jessica Smith. Jessica always looks to be in character and this came through in her performance.

Working hard for the money

CANDY ORDERS are on Scott Bender's mind as he studies the order sheets and the stock at Rite Aid.

GOOD SERVICE is the thing Darlene Baker gives to her customers at Hickory Farms in Newmarket North.

MAY BE A WIN says Angie Winfree to a customer buying a lottery ticket at Treasury Drug in Newmarket North Mall. Angie has been working at the store for seven months.

'PIZZA, PIZZA!' David Jackson is landing and bagging a Crazy Bread at Little Caesars.

"DOG ON IT!" exclaims Shannon Roddy as she dresses a corn dog for a customer in the Coliseum Mall. Shannon has been working here for two years.

DRESSED TO KILL, Stephanie Watson, Danielle McClark, Felicia Davis, and Lois Walters were all winners in a Halloween Contest held by the Business Department. Mrs. Buggs was the head of the contest.

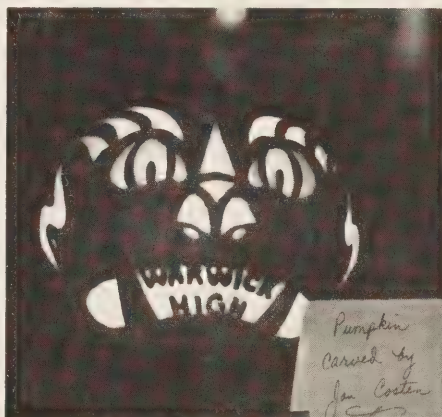

AURA OF CHRISTMAS CHEER was played by Jermaine Jones, Mike Tongier, Jezmon Lewis, Charles Boone, and Antoine Braxton at the band's holiday concert. These guys are members of the jazz band and played solos.

HO DUDE! HO HO! This is the way Ashley Miller, A.K.A. Abade Madul Hazenig Abdul, depicts Santa Claus. He was in charge of designing Mrs. Sievert's door and this displays his idea.

ICHABOD CRANE CARVED THIS! "No!" said Mrs. Costen, "This is my creation." She carves pumpkins for a living and has published a craft manual that includes a carving tool and it is known throughout the U.S.

SAY STRAWBERRIES is what Ms. Patterson told Terrance Warren, Betty Adkins, Gloria Armstrong, and Raymond Warren to say as they were stringing cranberries to use as garland on their Christmas tree.

Tis' The Season

CAROLING, CAROLING is what the Warwickshire did at their Christmas concert. Kelly Russel, Wilhelminia Brinkley, Karen Shanks, Robbie Puryear, Brad Faulk, Chris Crank, Tito Harris, Keith Tongier, John Keeter, Robert Allen, Keary Bosten, Temple Gatewood, Melissa O'Bier, Inga Graves, and LaSonia Jackson are directed by Mr. Auby. They performed extremely well as they sang "Caroling, Caroling" and "Carol of the Bells".

IN THE WINNERS CIRCLE Noland Anderson really gets into his work. The day he was working, Noland's hands were covered with chalk. He drew this on Mr. Tuberville's door for the decorating contest.

ORNAMENTS GALORE as Lea Johns and Kim Wolf finish decorating Lea's Christmas tree. They are getting ready to celebrate the last holiday before the new year. The spirit is in the air.

Miss WHS Pageant

There is more to a pageant than meets the eye. It took twenty-two dedicated young ladies and ten days of hard practice. Everyone had to give a little of theirself to make the pageant work. Even those who were not contestants in the pageant sacrificed their afternoons in the auditorium to make the pageant a success. People came to decorate, supervise, run the lighting and sound, and tie up all the loose ends. Even an unexpected snow storm did not weaken their spirits. The pageant was postponed a week. Still again the snow returned, but 'the show must go on.' Despite the hazardous roads, devoted parents and students came to cheer each contestant on. The pageant ended with the crowning of "Miss Warwick 1989", Kim Hubbard. Besides being the new Miss Warwick, Kim is also a strong leader of the gymnastics team and band. She will participate in the Spring Thing '89 parade as Miss Warwick.

by Teresa Garren

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL "If I could go back, I would congratulate the other girls as well because each contestant carried herself as a winner!" says Katrina Elam.

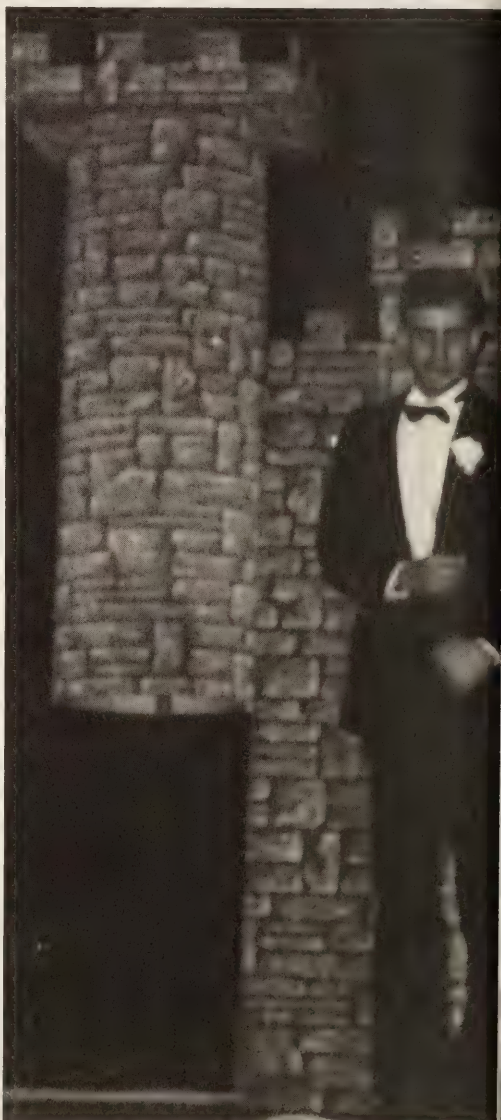

MOST TALENTED Kim Hubbard says, "When you make a mistake, keep going with a smile."

"I WANT TO COME TO YOU kind people," says Teresa Garren as she performs her monologue.

MISS WARWICK! "I feel wonderful! I really don't have any words to explain it!" says Kim Hubbard after winning the title. "I'm still floating! I had confidence in my ability but was not confident in that I was going to win. I think that everyone who does something like this has to be confident in their own self. One of the most important things is how you present yourself. You have to look confident no matter how nervous you are. I will try to project a positive image that all people here can be proud of. I am very honored to have such a title as 'Miss Warwick'."

"MY FAVORITE THINGS" were meeting new people and working as a group to create a successful pageant," says Courtney Hodges.

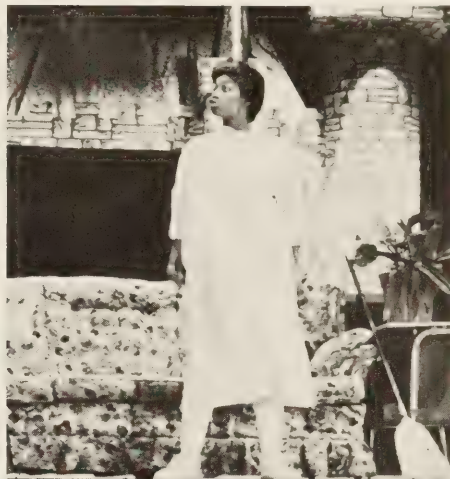

MAGICAL FINGERS "My most memorable moment is the response the crowd gave me after my talent performance," says Felecia Snead.

LUXURIOUS LAVENDER "My most memorable moment was when my name was announced as being one of the finalists," says Kim Wolf.

"WHO YOU THINK YOUR ROLLING YOUR EYES AT!" says Robin Woolfolk as she performs her monologue. Robin was really scared when answering the semi-finalist question.

"My most memorable moment had to be being named second runner up. The excitement and the feeling of the rose thorns in my arm will live on forever," says Karen Shanks. (picture not available)

MISS CONGENIALITY, Jenny Crank, sings "The Old Songs." "It was hard to imagine who would be the next Miss Warwick. In my opinion everyone was a winner."

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS. Mrs. Carolyn Anthony takes time to explain the attendance policy.

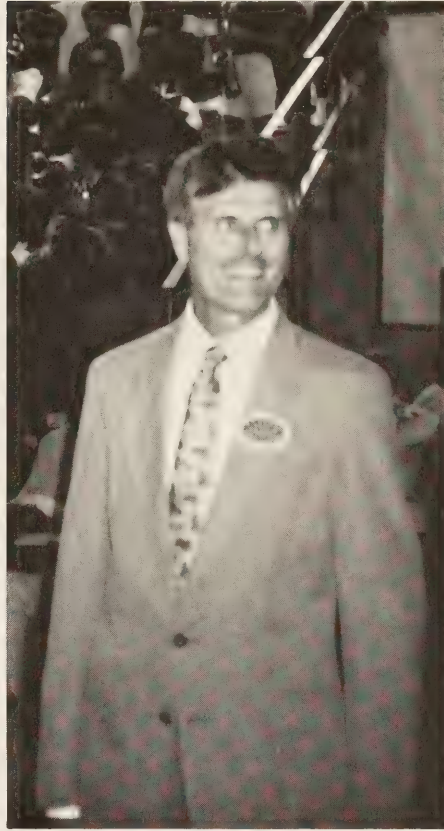

THEY'RE COMING! Mrs. Krause, the bookkeeper, helps Mrs. Alford prepare for everyone's return by counting, separating, and dispensing forms and materials.

WANT A PHONE? Mrs. Mask discards the old phones to make room for the new system, another change for Warwick.

WITH AN OPEN DOOR PHILOSOPHY, Mr. Jackie Diggs is always willing to help everyone.

OUR FAMILIAR FRIEND Mr. Ed Way has been a principal for Warwick for a very long time.

Big, big Changes..

An upheaval of change came to the office this year with a new principal, Mr. Jackie Diggs, and two new assistants, Ms. Mattie Broadnax and Mr. Terrence Taylor. Three new faces on a four person team. But new faces are not the only change. New rules, new enthusiasm, and new personalities are all welcome in an effort to bring to life a spirit that is contagious. Mr. Diggs asks everyone 'to catch the fever'.

The veteran of the team is Ed Way, and he hasn't changed a bit. He remains caring, helpful with any problem, and willing to listen. He is always fair, friendly and understanding. Mr. Way works very hard as principal in charge of activities and this year he has been the main support and advisor for many of his colleagues. by Ford Porter

PARKING PROBLEMS concern Mr. Taylor, and Mr. French, new head custodian, tries to help.

TOO MUCH WORK is covering Ms. Broadnax's desk, but everyone knows she'll finish smiling.

Guiding our future

YOU HAVE ALL YOUR SCIENCE CREDITS. Mr. Richard Kravitz talks with Felecia Davis about graduation requirements.

LOOK AT THIS! Mrs. Fran Scott is under piles of scheduling information. Beginning the year is a tremendous undertaking for the counselors.

DROP EVERYTHING AND READ! Busy secretaries Erline Wimberly and Carol Thompson participated in the program in November designed to promote reading.

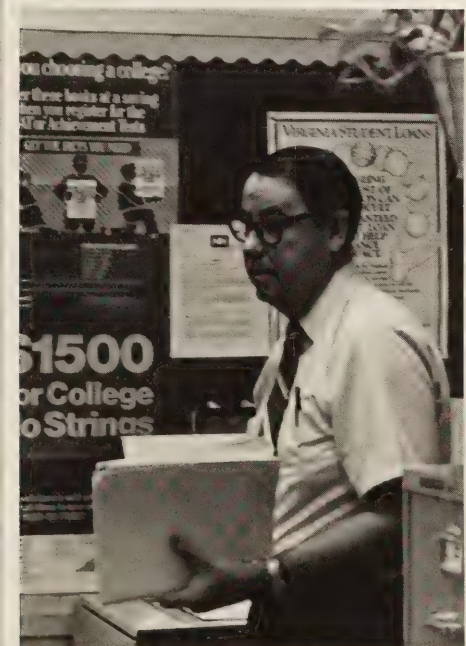

BIG JOHN is really named Frank Morris. Mr. Morris is a staff aide known by most students as firm, but fair.

INJURED IN THE LINE OF DUTY: Ms. Joyce Briggs holds a bag of ice to help the swelling of her wrist which was injured while breaking up a fight before school.

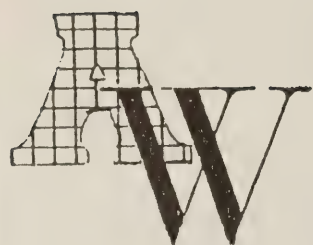

MAKING RED RIBBONS is not in a counselor's job description, but Mrs. Carolyn Pollard doesn't care. She is always willing to help with projects to benefit the school.

FILES, FILES, AND MORE FILES: Mr. Holmes, the director of guidance, is always going through files checking for grades, transfer information, and college entry data.

GATHERING INFORMATION, Mr. Paul Cowley spends a lot of time on the phone talking to parents, social workers, and colleges, all in an attempt to help his students.

Changes in attitude

How do we learn?

Practice says Mr. Cale, the band director. Study says Mrs. Sloan, a U.S. history teacher. Study and practice says Mrs. Matzner, a German teacher. Learning takes time and learning requires a lot of effort.

How long does it take to learn?

Twelve years say some educators; a lifetime say others. There is no definite answer because there is no end to the learning of any one topic.

We take six classes a day. Whether we are sitting in Mrs. Blanche William's English class memorizing Beowulf, smelling up the chemistry hall in one of Mrs. Woolfolk's labs, making bookshelves in Mr. Colwell's shop, comparing Bush and Dukakis in Mr. Field's government class, or proving the binomial theorem in Mr. Drummond's math class, we are aware of one thing!

Our main goal — our one aim is to increase our knowledge. We feel the stress and the constant prodding to do our best. We have long hours of homework and studying. Our parents try to help, but the work remains ours.

We have much to prove. We have come a long way. We know we will never increase our existing framework of knowledge without effort. Learning involves purposeful remembering and then skilled performance. We know what we have to accomplish. To MAKE THAT CHANGE we need a CHANGE IN ATTITUDE.

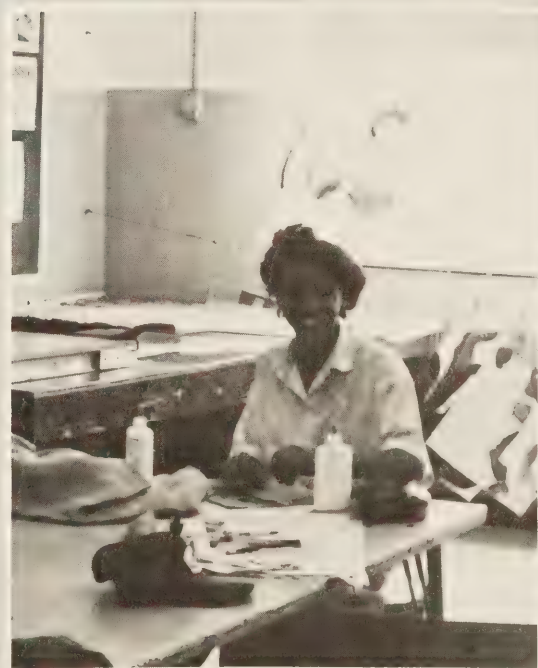

FIRST YEAR German students Betsy Gainer, Christie Martin, Jennifer Plaster, and Adrian Riggs listen to tapes and follow along in their books to increase word usage.

MARINE TANKS are set up every year. Stephanie Branch and Felicia Davis read aquarium guides to learn how.

FISHING with a seine net at Lion's Bridge, Chris Lewis catches saltwater specimen for the classroom's aquarium.

WORLD OF COLORS. Tonya Whitaker participates in a study of texture by making a collage using various materials.

What ART you doing?

MAKING IT PERFECT. Lyonell Vierra concentrates on creating a masterpiece from scrap material.

REAL McCOY. Seniors Kresta Davis and Tanya Everett show off their exotic jewelry which was actually made from scraps!

PLACING TALENT. Marissa Hilliard finishes pasting pictures as Mrs. Brown pours more glue for her.

RECREATING THE MASTER WORKS. Mrs. Brown helps Melissa Meeks start to paint the sketch she drew from a magazine picture.

DISPLAYING EXCELLENCE
Stephanie Thompson is proud of her beautiful work, and Natasha Allen works intently to complete hers.

MEN THAT MAKE JEWELRY.
Billy Overman and Jonathan Stephenson use their artistic talents to master jewelry making.

Showmanship

The Raider Bands, including marching band, jazz ensemble, and concert band, are showmen in the truest sense. They are a very visible aspect of the school's spirit. The bands perform for school functions, as well as community activities. Continuing this year with their winning tradition, they participate in competitions and festivals with superior showmanship. Raider band members must attend all rehearsals, perform at all concerts, and practice individually. This requires total commitment of the band's 80 students.

Band provides its members with several opportunities for individual recognition. This can be accomplished by audition and selection for All-City

Band, All-District Band, and All-Virginia Band. Solo and ensemble festival provides an opportunity to attain personal achievement by preparing a solo piece of music and subjecting it to a judge's criticism.

The Raider Bands are an integral part of WHS in that they provide spirit and prestige to its members and to our school. Taking band as a class is a fulltime commitment, but one that has many rewards. by Amy Feely and Joseph Mounts

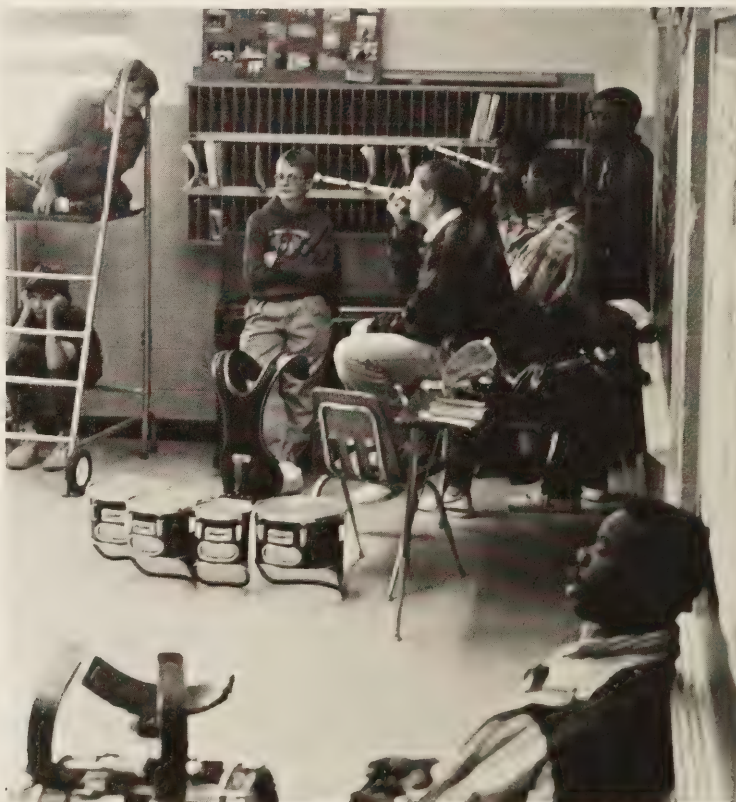

LES MISERABLES isn't an attitude, it's the name of a song practiced by fluters, Fran Ruff and Diane Slone.

JAZZ JARGON is being taught by Mr. Cale to the jazz ensemble: Joseph Mounts, Steve Smith, David Jones, and Mike Tongier.

BEFORE PRACTICE Alcy Lamm makes comment and gets a 'No Good!' from Karl Schultz, Joseph Mounts, Keith Smith and Chris Lassiter.

NOT ALL FUN AND GAMES
Courtney Hodges, Temple Gatewood, and Melissa O'Bier, seniors who total 6 years of experience, practice 'Christmas from the Heart' for their last Christmas appearance.

SOLO MEANS ONE and it seems like it is as Tito Harris gives a lot to a song. Waiting to perform are Robbie Puryear, James Wilson, Chris Crank, and Brad Faulk.

In harmony

Warwickshire Singers, which meets during second period, involves patience, hard work and dedication. Sometimes we forget so, our choral director, Mr. Tony Auby, deserves much credit for putting up with all of our antics.

The group travels to nearby places to participate in concerts like the Christmas party for the senior citizens at a hotel in Williamsburg named 1776. We also sang for the choral department's Holiday Concert in December and graduation at the Hampton Coliseum.

This group of singers is a select few. We tryout by singing a song for Mr. Auby. Those selected are asked to sign up for the class.

During the year, uniforms are passed out to wear during performances. The uniforms for the girls consist of blue or red leotards worn with a white string skirt made with sequins. The uniforms for the boys are black tuxedos with cummerbunds and bow ties that are either blue or red. This group works hard to conduct well performed concerts. by Temple Gatewood

'GO TELL IT ON THE MOUNTAIN' is sung by the mixed chorus, Karen Shanks, Melissa Meeks, James Griffin, and Robert Allen, all possible Warwickshire singers.

SOME SONGS HAVE A PUNCH
and Annette Wilkins sings this song with alot of feeling.

Making Careers

Business takes a person far into the future. Our business department participated in the nationwide program "Dress for Success." On the second Tuesday of each month we dressed in office attire. We also took time out to help less fortunate children by donating Christmas gifts.

Marketing is challenging.

Working with computer simulations give students experience in running a business. Every year, the students take field trips to Neihman & Marcus and Macy's. For fun, students participated in a Bowlathon and other competitions, which brought them closer together.

by Melvina Watkins

LETTER SEARCH: Billy Jones looks for the right keys while typing manuscripts. This is a required assignment in all typing classes.

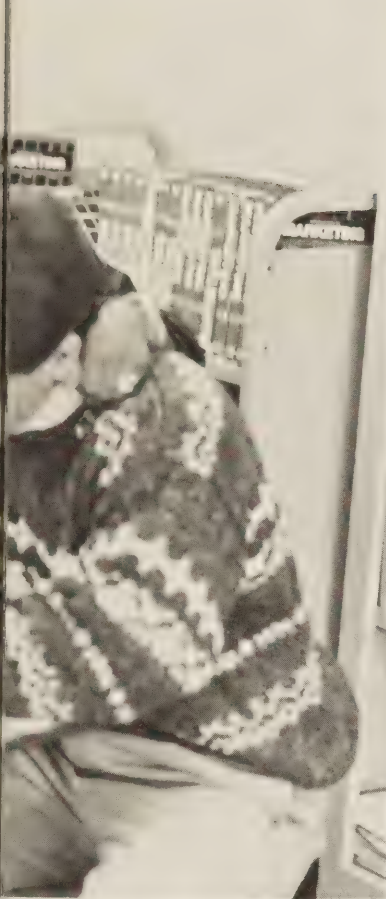

IT ALL ADDS UP. Calculating sales is a serious job for Benjamin Atkins. Marketing gives him the opportunity for a career in sales.

GETTING READY FOR SALES Jermaine Jones and Tawanda Gray practice good study habits by writing notes on the ending inventory and filling out a marketing history report.

GIVING SOME ADVICE Brian Millard shares helpful tips with Shannon Wallace and Detra Dearing on successful business simulations. Many of the students in Marketing Management practice the real "dog-eat-dog" world of business with hopes of being successful entrepreneurs.

"A NOVEL IDEA" is the computer program James Werner is running. This simulation shows most of the factors in operating a business.

STOCKS ARE UP is what Charlie Kim is hoping while hunting for the Dow Jones Industrial average. It showed how many points he gained.

Strong, independent

We are learning about world history, U.S. history, and government. Sometimes it is easy, but sometimes it is not. All in all, we like to learn about the way we came to be.

Beginning in the ninth grade, we take either world geography or world history. Whichever we pick, we get the chance to know how America began.

We bring things together in 11th grade U.S. History. From the discovering of America in 1492, to the signing of the Constitution in 1789, to the present, which will later be called history, we learn not to take our citizenship for granted. We are proud of our country.

Democracy of yesterday is the cornerstone of democracy today. Little hops and gigantic leaps created our unique system. No one is like us. We are different.

Being strong and independent, we have learned that there are only two ways to be: an American or nothing! by Mary Hall

MEN IN GOVERNMENT: working hard in Mrs. Jordan's class Tom Gilliam, Chad Rose, Charlie Kim, Chris Lassiter, and Joseph Mounts make the most of class time.

WAR IS PROBABLY on Chevela Lee's mind as she takes notes in Mr. Field's history class. Class members include Russell Williams, Donna Preas, and Angela Boyd.

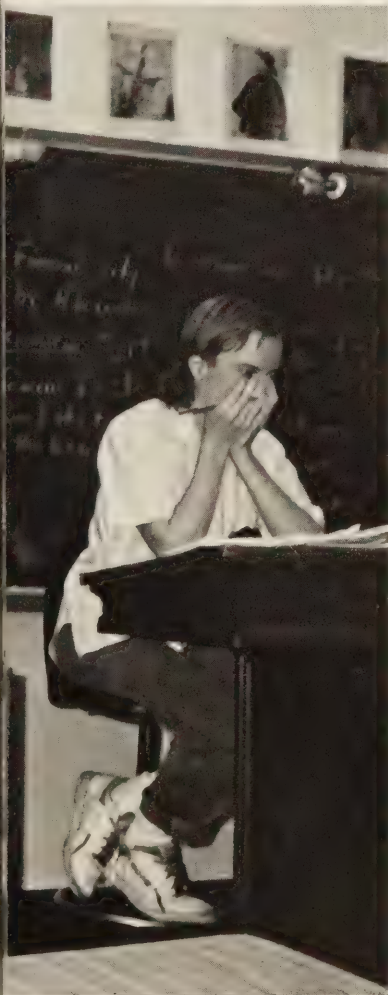

YOUNG REPUBLICANS: Jim Talbot and Mike Bazemore spend their activity period in a meeting of the new club which is designed to teach students about the government.

WHAT SMILE? Austin Kirk, a varsity football player, is seriously into his history. Like many, Austin is taking U.S. History to meet requirements for the 11th grade.

Exercise pays off

ROBIN HOOD? Sonya Watson looks like she could have won the archery contest with Prince John and Robin Hood, had she been born several hundred years earlier.

"Every day I dread the sound of stomping feet, laughter and the smell of stinky feet. I especially hate hearing the key go into the door and seeing the blinding light of the locker room. I just know that I'm next to go.

"Oh! I'm sorry. I forgot to introduce myself. My name is Ralph the Basketball. It's the beginning of the school year and it's also basketball season.

"Those kids are going to bounce me up and down on that hard and dirty gym floor just to throw me into a small basket.

Whenever the kids are lucky enough to throw me in the basket, I get rope burns all over from sliding down the net. I get a huge headache whenever I hit the metal rim. Then, some kids try to be funny by spinning me on their fingers. I just ache after that.

"Oh No! Here I go! Wish me luck. I'll see you at the end of the day! . . .

"Finally, I hear the ten minute bell of 6th period ring and soon I will be back home on the cold, damp floor of the equipment room."

THAT'S A GOOD VOLLEY! During the cold months from November to March, volleyball nets are a familiar sight in the gym. The game is played with mixed 10th grade classes. Coach Moore instructs, keeps score and officiates these games. Sometimes he even plays. Kate Terrell and Darrell Blue watch and listen until it's their turn to play.

FAVORITE PASTIME for junior, Nicole Ridley, is fixing to eat. Mrs. Walsh, a spanish teacher, teaches more than vocabulary when she has fiestas with spanish food.

No matter where you go, or what you do, someone is talking. Whether it's English, French, German, Latin, or Spanish, communication is present. In all language classes, we study to learn and understand the language.

English is taught to everyone. Just because its our language, doesn't mean we know it all. We have to learn diagramming sentences, writing essays and preparing research papers.

Language includes studying the culture. This is valuable in other classes. All languages have a personality and it is fun to learn about the different food, clothes and customs.

The best outcome of taking language is learning to communicate with each other and discovering some of the differences among people. This can only lead to understanding. by Mary Hall

To sum it up

Math is a path everyone must take. Algebra begins with the equation of a line. Geometry teaches about compasses and protractors. Trigonometry is more involved with logarithms, and math analysis sums everything up for us. Calculus puts it all in perspective. It's a tough road, but learning will create images of accomplishment in our minds. by Mary Hall

Technology education consists of wood, metal, drafting, and electronic technologies. It is a great way for students to get a head start on life. Taking technology education courses helps students to decide on a career for their future.

The department is taught by Mr. Jackson, Mr. Keesecker and Mr. Colwell, all truly dedicated teachers. They work real hard to help students succeed in Technology Ed., as well as, in life.

The first is Child Development. In this class, we learn to understand and care for children and sometimes even act like them. This class is perfect for learning to raise kids or just to take care of them.

Next comes Marriage and Family Planning. This course prepares students for after high school. It teaches how to get along with the person you love but don't always like, and how to financially cope with marriage.

In Nutrition, you learn to cook and prepare a balanced diet. This class shows you nutritional stuff that nobody cares about. Then you get to bake cookies. That's what people think Home Ec is all about.

Last but not least, is Life Management. This is just a different version of Family Planning. Instead of married life, this course concentrates on the single life.

CHANGE IN STRATEGY

Warwick athletes are a tough breed. We go through rigorous training sessions every afternoon after school. We are dedicated to improving ourselves. We want to achieve new goals and we especially want to be the best. We face defeat and we cherish our victories — both teach us a little more about life.

Winning a match or winning the game is not all there is to playing. Our coaches stress changes. We work every day to become the best. We are taught to check out the situation, to compare our assets to our liabilities, and to come out victors in the end. Our strategies are the most important part of the game and our training. We develop new attitudes and ways to approach problems.

For dedicated athletes, sports is a vital part of life. Sports provides self-assurance and a sense of accomplishment. Glory is not attained through victory alone. It is realized because of dedication and commitment to a favorite sport. When we work and become the best we can be — that's glory. We fight with a championship approach to every game. We never lose our competitive spirit or our good sportmanship conduct. As with all the other aspects of school, athletes exemplify a group of people who have extremely high goals and aspirations. We are a proud bunch. And we learned how to MAKE THAT CHANGE with a CHANGE IN STRATEGY.

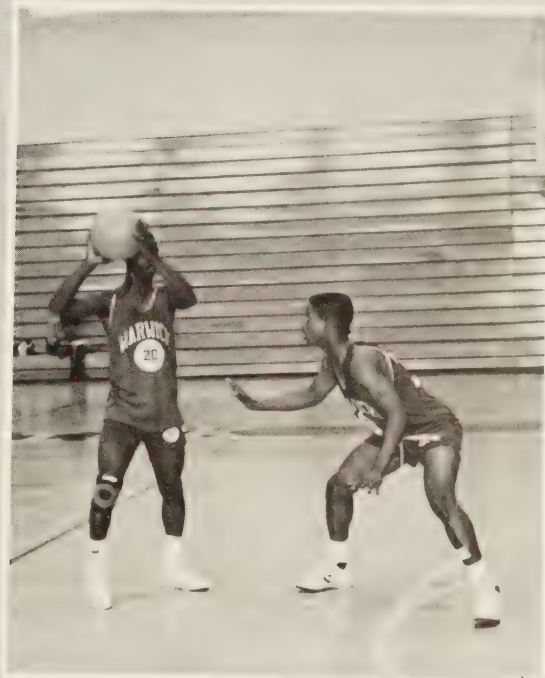

TEAM EFFORT is clearly displayed as Lisa Payne, Teresa Garren, and Glenda Taylor defend the goal. Lisa is a senior, and she played a tough season. Teresa and Glenda will be returning next year.

IT'S ALL ON THE LINE. Gernie Strickland, senior, plays center for the varsity team. He has been at Warwick for only two years.

'NEVER QUIT' even when it hurts' says Tim Bland who has been running on the cross country team for two years. Tim is also a key photographer for the annual staff.

BLOCKIN' IT. Marlon Moore tries to guard Mann Venable from making a basket during practice. Marlon has played basketball since his sophomore year and Mann since his freshman year.

Success in the mist

All through summer practice the team was ready for a success. Except for one period when the heat got to us, we really wanted a winning season. The team practiced and played like madmen throughout the scrimmages. When it came time to start the season, all of that seemed to go out the window.

Our schedule killed us! We had to play 3 playoff teams for the first 3 games, so we had a terrible first half of the season. But, we came back and did excellently in the second half. All in all, we went from 3 and 7 last year to 5 and 5 this year showing there must be success lingering in the mist.

BATTLING THE WARRIORS Monte Hooker (foreground) gets set to charge from the 43rd yard line against KHS. Played at Todd, the final score was 13 to 7 in our favor.

TOUGH ONE truly describes this game against Tabb. The team was challenged by such competition. By the end of the season, we turned in a good record. Nothing stops us!

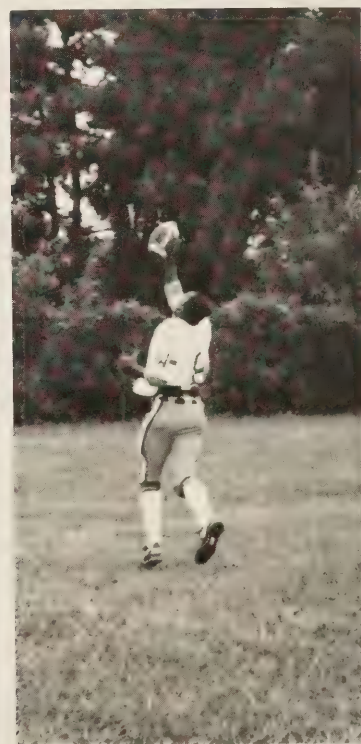

"OUR BEST ABILITY — We hung in all year and we didn't give up after we played tough teams at the beginning," said Paul Modar.

Mike Charity, senior, warms up before a game by catching a few. Mike plays tight end and has been on the team since the ninth grade.

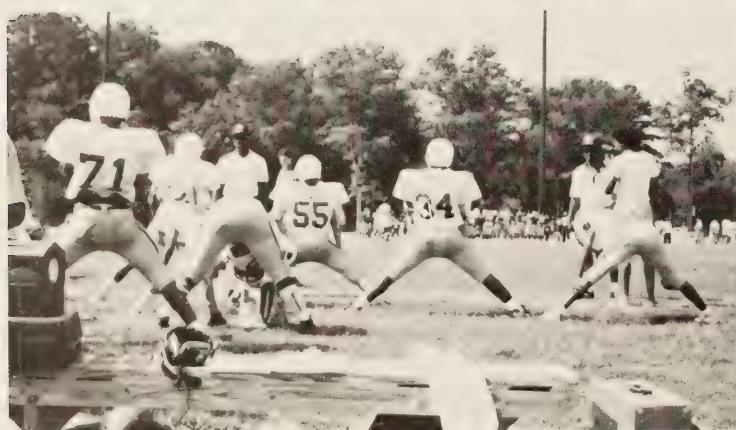

THOSE LONG DAYS practicing until nightfall: Coaches Bill Lyons, Tom Jacobs, and Jesse Wallace keep the guys late to get the best out of them. Melvin Haskett carries the ball as Tony Westry and William Yarborough come from behind. Our group knows how important it is to practice hard and go for that extra yard for a winning season.

NO PAIN, NO GAIN! Coach Wallace spots Paul Modar while doing wide pull downs in order to build his lats. All players work to failure and beyond at least twice a week in order to have real muscles. In case of injuries, there is always the jacuzzi for them to relax in.

P-I-R FORMATION to gain yards with a 52 defense, while Maurice Pierce, (lower corner), waits for Aaron Accurso, the center, to begin pass play.

A BIG GAIN at the Denhigh game is accomplished by Tremayne Jernigan, AKA 'Shorty' by his fellow team mates.

HALFTIME AT A GAME is over and players Woodrow Price, Lonnie Crittenden, Alvin Lankford, Mario Haskett, Coach Wallace, and Che Lars return to the field.

STRETCHING AT HALFTIME, Derrick Barnes and James Griffin keep limber for the Phoebus game. Fortunately, this was the J.V. Raiders' only defeat.

PREPARING FOR THE GAME. Offensive linemen are Brian Skapura, Woodrow Price, Tony Rogers, and George Lane. Practice is in full swing as the offense uses a technique that Coach Wallace taught. When he showed it, he cut himself and said, "I don't have time to bleed! Let's play!"

Strenuous practice works

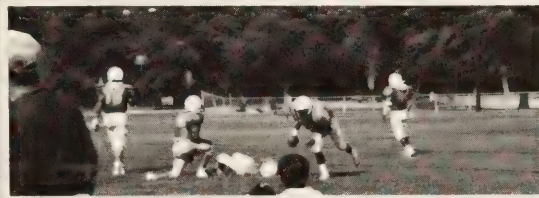

Starting off with summer practices, the junior varsity team learned and reinforced the skills necessary to make themselves the absolute best. Disappointment followed their first game, but with spirit, support from coaches, and love for the sport, these special young men fought back. Having practice daily and at the same time, keeping up with their school work, the Raiders never gave up.

Playing carefully and confidently, the real winners came out in the end. Giving everything of themselves, our J.V. gained the respect and experience needed to make a strong team mentally and physically. Our Raiders successfully earned their way to the top by becoming District Champions.

A GOAL

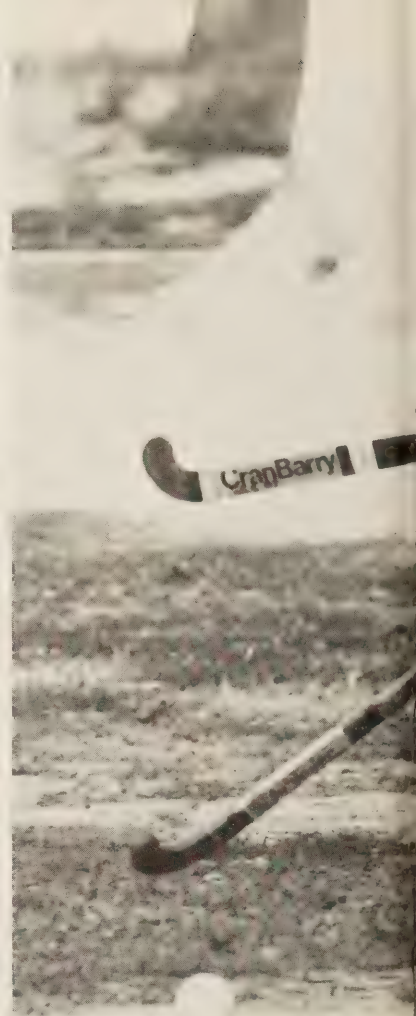

Field hockey season began on August 10 with a total of 32 players. Sixteen girls made up an experienced varsity squad which captured a third place finish in the district. The successful year was characterized by the change in coaching style and techniques with two new coaches, Mrs. Fauntleroy and Mr. Emerson.

Another important change in the 1988 season was the number of spectators — students, faculty, administration, and parents — who attended the games to cheer the team to victory. Every game was well attended.

Mrs. Fauntleroy feels the scores and record do not reflect the talent and improvement the teams displayed during the season. Several games were lost due to hard strokes which were costly. The team should show vast improvement next year and really be a force with which to contend.

SPEEDING UP the field Kenya Barnes passes all the rest as Holly Edelblute runs back up.

MARCHING to a win, Teresa Garren, Lea Johns, Kim Wolf, Holly Edelblute and Kenya Barnes take the field.

TEAMWORK is shown by Tanya Reeves and Glenda Taylor as they go for a goal.

VICTORY is on Lisa Payne's mind as she steals the ball from the HRA opponent. Lisa is considered a real athlete by her coach.

CHALLENGING the opponent, Ford Porter gets control of the ball. Ford has played on the team since 8th grade.

Back: Jennifer Camacho, Alisa Payne, Kenya Barnes, Dawn Boney, Lea Johns, Teresa Garren, Brionna Jones, Shameccea Russell, Coaches Emerson and Fauntleroy Front: Holly Edelblute, Donna Preas, Kim Wolf, Glenda Taylor, Ford Porter and Stacie Johnson.

CONTEMPLATING her strategy Brionna Jones prepares for her next save. Brionna was valuable as the team's goalie.

T for Teamwork

"This year cheerleading has been truly exciting. The squad and sponsors came together and worked as a team and a family. The results have been rewarding.

Over the summer, we went to camp and came out more experienced. We left being winners, capturing many awards. As a squad, we have learned from each other and learned how to deal with each other. Because of all of this, we have made many great memories and this year has turned out to be the best ever."

The yearbook staff thanks Rene Peshek for taking time to respond to our question:

WHAT DO YOU REMEMBER MOST ABOUT CHEERING?

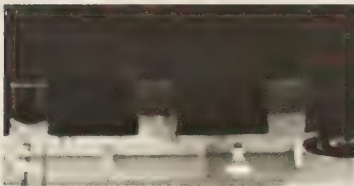

STUNTS FOR SPIRIT Molly Dickinson, Chavella Lee, Taryce Boyd, Courtney Hodges, and Temple Gatewood are caught finishing the last cheer.

Bottom: Renee Brett, Temple Gatewood, Rene Peshek, Courtney Hodges. Back: Ebony Pittman, Wilhelminia Brinkley, Cara Rich, Chavella Lee. Up: Molly Dickinson, Michelle Asadi, Stacy Harris. Top Treebie Boyd.

CAUGHT IN ACTION Cara Rich has been cheering varsity for the last year. She is appreciated for her wit and good nature.

APPARENTLY PLEASED with the action on the floor, Molly Dickinson watches as football players are being called out of the stands.

HOLD ON here comes Ebony Pittman. Ebony was strong for her petite size so was often used as one of the key people in pyramids.

1..2..3.. UP! Rene Peshek is lifting Treebie Boyd in a cheer during the Hampton game. Behind them Ebony and Molly attempt to straighten a sign in the wind.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT. Here the squad is captured during one of the many practices. It was a familiar sight to drive up and see them outside the main entrance by the art rooms.

Yell-smile-jump

Excitement filled the air as twelve young ladies were chosen as JV cheerleaders after a two week tryout. In mid-July, the group attended summer camp at Wm. and Mary. The next surge of enthusiasm was shown at freshman orientation and the first varsity football game. These girls gave time to many JV football games. Pep rallies and homecoming ended the fall sports season, along with the rival FHS game. Basketball season called for late evenings. With two district championships the girls realized their hard work and dedication paid off.

by Renee Brett

WITH DETERMINATION AND SPIRIT, Kelly O'Leary, Kenya Barnes, and Shauna McQuillen greet the opposing team at halftime and prepare them for a defeat.

DURING HALFTIME PRESENTATION, the JV cheerleaders express their strong sense of pride and support for their winning football team.

READY TO CHEER for the varsity team, Kelly O'Leary, Faith Mason, Tracey Lamb and Bridgette Mask anxiously wait for the chant.

NEW MOVES AND PROUD OF THEM, Jennifer Crank, and Bridgette Mask cheer along with varsity to arouse school spirit at a pep rally.

RUNNING STRONG, senior, Derrick Jeter's event is the 1600 meter. The opponent passed him at the line beating him by only 2 seconds.

Indoor track

BREAKING THE LINE and the record, Chavella Lee runs the 55 meter dash for a win at the District Meet. Chavella usually won this event during the season.

MAKING IT LOOK EASY, Stephanie Coleman, one of our strongest runners, receives the baton from teammate, Shameccea Russell. This was the anchor leg of the 4 x 400 relay team which won second place in the District Meet. Stephanie placed sixth in the District and Regional which qualified her for the State Finals. She also ran cross country and received the Most Valuable Player award at the awards assembly in the Fall.

LOVE . . .

That's the beginning and foundation for Coach Kee-secker's team. Barbara Higgins remembers Mr. Kee-secker was the main reason for the new attitude and enthusiasm. The team entered every match with confidence and finished knowing they had given their very best. The support they provided each other helped them through a tough season. Scores don't always tell the story of victory. The team's #1 player this year was Kim Joyce.

FOUR FOR FORE

Only four golfers took Warwick to an improved team standing this year. Their work began early. In the heat of the summer Craig Robbins, Billy Overman, Robert Coleman, and Wesley Daniels played five matches before school even started. That's dedication! With a new district standing of sixth place overall, these four Raiders must have turned in excellent team performances all year. Their strongest matches were at Hampton and Smithfield.

For the second consecutive year, the team's most valuable player, Billy Overman qualified for the regional tournament. He is truly a talented golfer.

Billy and freshman Heath Scott are the only two returning players. Coach Bruce Field is ready for a new season and already has his eye out for prospective players.

Changing Gears

The Spirit of Warwick High ... who sets the example? Who takes the challenge? Who forges ahead with the toughest projects? It is the clubs, organizations, and the extra-curricular activities that add extra spirit to our campus. In the classroom we show this spirit by meeting on activity day, but after school the spirit shines in voluntary service, fun and fellowship.

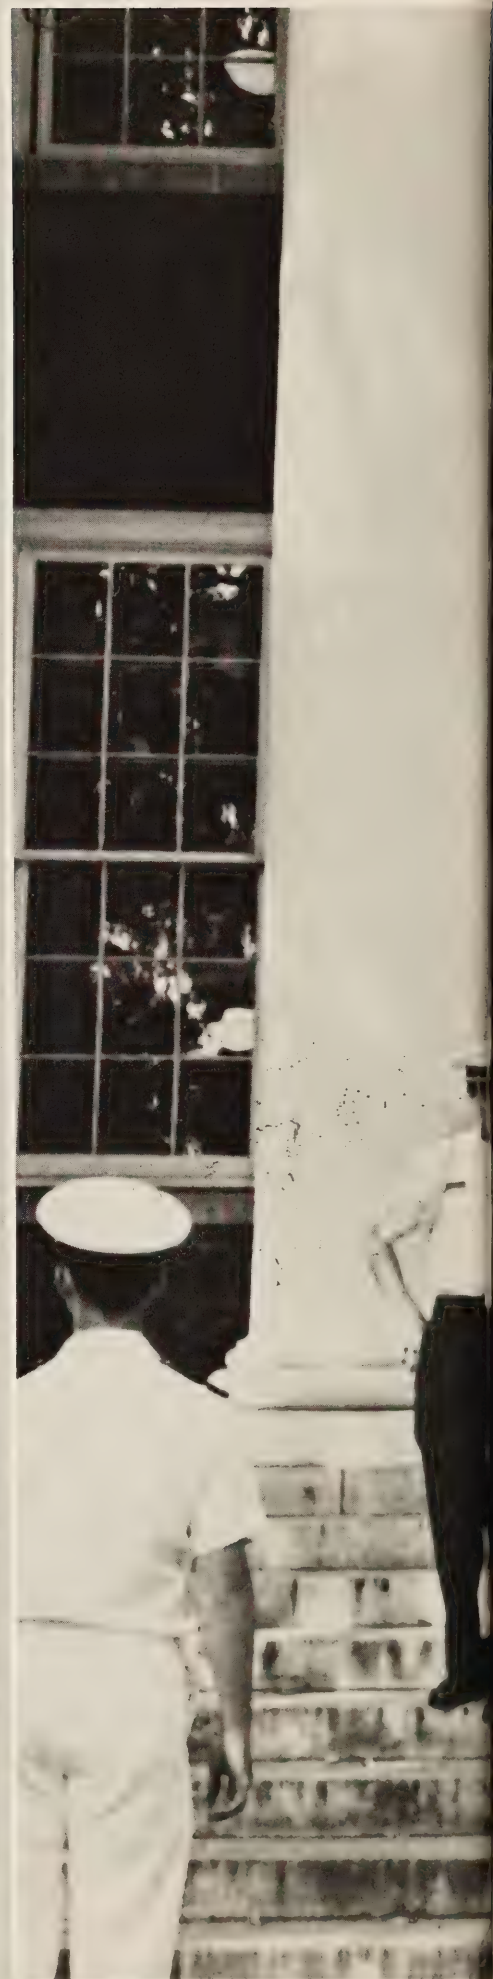

Clubs supplement learning begun in the classroom, others provide service to our community and some provide a forum for students with similar interests and abilities to interact and communicate in an informal atmosphere. All clubs allow an opportunity for social interaction not possible in the classroom. This sense of belonging helps to build the true spirit and enthusiasm in our school.

Whether leader or follower, club membership provides a learning and growing experience for everyone. Successful fund raising, memories of an enjoyable trip, an outstanding blood drive, or a project well planned are equal in reward to the new friendships made.

There is a strong emphasis on clubs and activities at Warwick. They oil and grease the school's atmosphere. Like a fine tuned engine shifting higher and racing toward victory, our clubs MAKE THAT CHANGE by CHANGING GEARS.

AFTER A LONG DAY students board the activity bus. Hours after classes were often busier than those before. Wednesday afternoons athletes always left late.

'Being Tardy'

by Chris Dodson

The bell rings, you get out of class

You walk down the hall, acting stupid and being crass

You go to your locker, you take up your books

Preparing for class and your teacher's dirty looks

You get to class on time, two minutes before the bell rings

Your standing by your desk and out the teacher sings

"I've got you now with a tardy today

Two more tardies and you're on your way"

The student gets smart and says "You're out of your mind

I was in class with plenty of time".

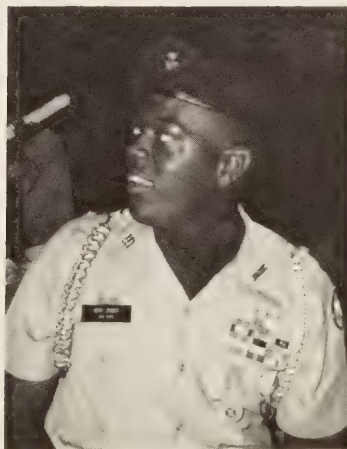

And the teacher replies "That's not how it works

You have to be seated and don't give me that smirk."

And so from now on I have to take care

And make sure I'm in class with my butt in that chair.

Change of Image

Each school year gives us a chance to start anew. There is clearly a marked change in everyone. From the eager-to-learn freshmen taking their first major step into adolescence to the seniors seriously contemplating their future roles in society, a fresh image begins to unfold. Students are joined in this transition by the faculty and staff who have returned prepared to increase the opportunities for us to learn. Our reflections of past years tell us we need to change. We don't need to make everyday more difficult or inflate minor disturbances. We need to stop losing or missing through inattention much of what could have been ours. Many of the things we felt were unimportant now begin to loom critical to our future. The past has been a teacher.

We want more for ourselves. Adjusted thinking overcomes fear and anxiety allowing us to achieve at higher levels. By looking deep within ourselves we determine what we really need. Life is best lived by choice, not by chance.

Our focus has changed. Drug Free Week, voter registration, blood drives, improved academic achievement, more school spirit, and continued education are some of the new values for the new year. These are the types of building blocks that pattern a walkway to a successful future. Change usually means growth and we will MAKE THAT CHANGE with a CHANGE OF IMAGE.

SATURDAY EFFORT is what it takes to finish a yearbook. Here Kim Hairel and Amy Redman sort and label all of the underclassmen pictures for the annual staff. There were 988 of them. What a job!

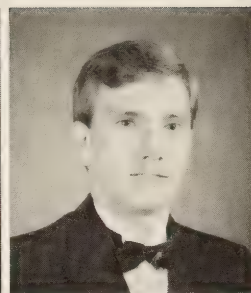

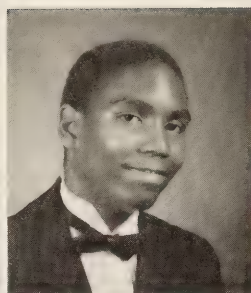

RAIDER JOY is unmistakable as Jamie Blount, Charles Hawkins, and Kenny Moyler wait with fellow varsity football players for a pep rally held in their honor.

HALFTIME CLUSTER Angie Winfree, Paige Sorrell, Celine Riffle and Sharon Smith chat while they wait for the game to continue.

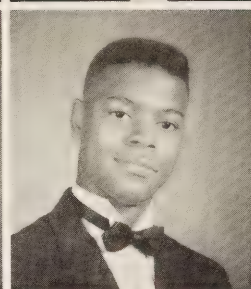

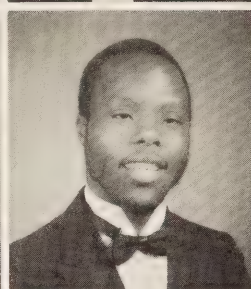

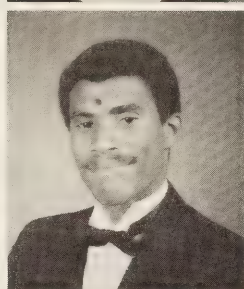

THE OLD AND THE NEW: Senior Bernice Jones and freshman Christie Martin barely notice each other. Soon to be Bernice's last stroll and only the beginning for Christie.

Senior 'I' Tis

THERE'S AN EPIDEMIC that hits every senior in the spring, it's called Senioritis. The disease causes severe mental lag time and tremendous lethargic lapses, but it's only Fall so, seniors Brandon Morris, Shane Dewitt, Darren Price, and Celine Riffle can still get excited for the football game. Come spring these faces will look different. Long before the disease hit, Celine worked on a very special science project; she unearthed in Lake Maury's sediment chlordane pesticide and a very hazardous chemical called Mirex.

Favorite Goal

When polled, the favorite goal of most Seniors was "To succeed in life and to be the best that I can be". It is commendable that so many Seniors set this as their goal so the annual staff wants to recognize these special Seniors by putting an asterick beside their names. When a senior's goal is similar, an asterick will be placed after his/her name.

A TYPICAL DAY

6:00 Alarm goes off — hit snooze.
 6:30 Alarm goes off(for the third time), feet hit floor.
 6:45 The Coast finally opened my eyes.
 6:50 Put on my favorite striped shirt and the plaid pants with the hole in the knee.
 7:00 Look for the homework I didn't do.
 7:20 Grab some toast and run out the door.
 7:35 Arrive at school — run to Government.
 9:45 Sitting in third period, everyone including my teacher is staring at me. I take a glance at myself. Oh my God ! Look what I'm wearing !
 12:50 Just woke up. I have ring-binder marks on my forehead. I hope I didn't snore.
 1:45 Run to the car to get to work on time. Oh no!! My keys are locked in the car.
 3:00 Get to work and my boss asks why I'm there. Don't tell me I don't have to work today.
 5:15 Picked up my drink, and realized it was the Parmesan cheese.
 5:30 Lay down to take a nap.
 7:00 Oh no! I'm late for school. Jump in the shower.
 7:15 Run down stairs and mom says, "Where are you going?" I say "I'm late for school." She says, "No! It's 7:00 PM!"
 7:30 Sit down to do homework and realize I left all my books in school.
 7:50 Go to school to get my books.
 8:00 Can't get books cause the doors are locked.
 8:15 Go to bed.

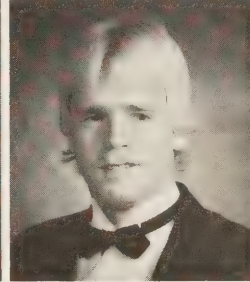

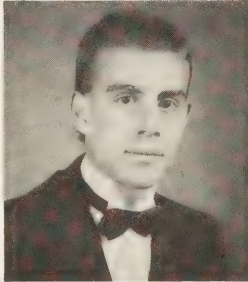

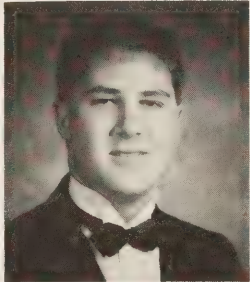

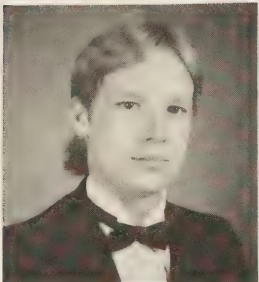

ALMOST GOT IT as seniors Robert Coleman, Craig Robbins, junior Billy Overman, and freshman Heath Scott attempt to loop the door lock. The golf team got together at Pizza Hut to celebrate the end of the season. Afterwards, Craig realized he locked his keys in his car.

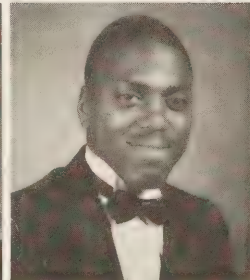

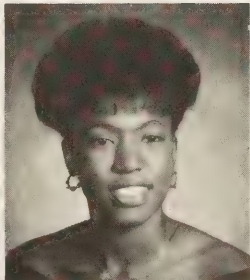

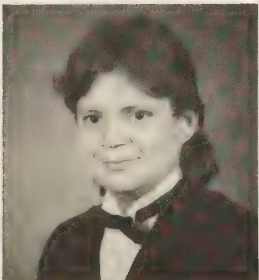

GOT IT! Craig Robbins, infinitely pleased that his car is unlocked, thanks Robert Coleman. The night ended; the typical day is a success.

Learning The Ropes

IS IT HYPNOTISM ? Mr. Holder captivates the minds of Doug Giles, Jennifer Holub, James Werner, and Paula Davis while teaching them the basics of marketing.

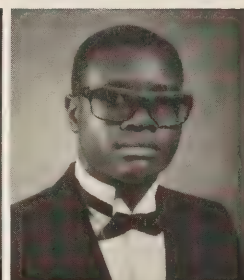

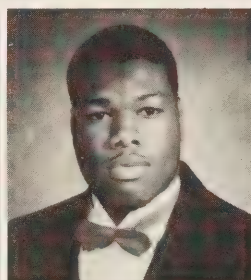

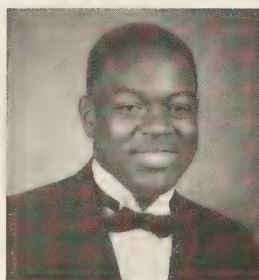

Inquiring minds want to know!

WHAT ARE THEY UP TO NOW? Practical joke king Shane Dewitt and his comrade James Hicks are definitely hiding something. Could it be their reaction to Shannon Wallace's appearance in the next picture?

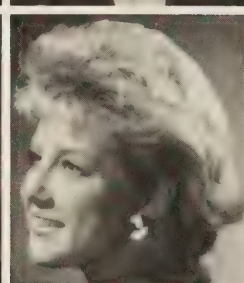

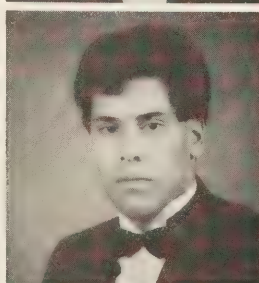

HOW MANY DATES has Shannon Wallace gotten since his new look? Shannon was dressed up to take part in the mock homecoming court put on by the varsity football players. Too bad his mustache gave him away.

MOST MEMORABLE MOMENTS

Your high school years come and go. These years bring many cherished moments, that you and I will only know.

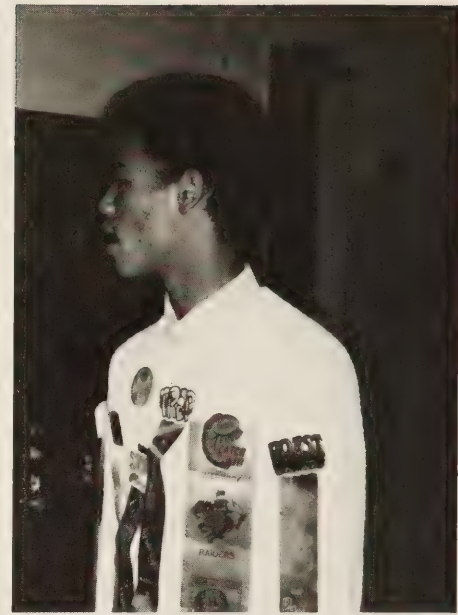

We shared so much, that the Senior Class of '89 has that special touch.

Each and everyone has something special that they have done.

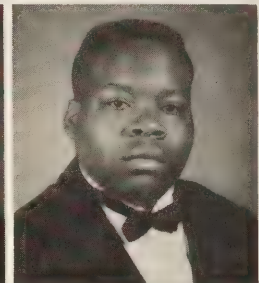

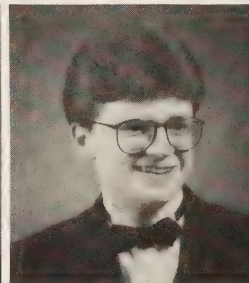

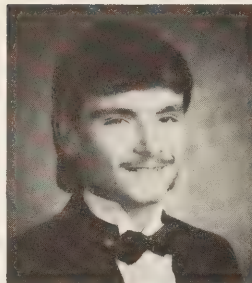

Some excelled during football season and others expressed their self with reason.

I for one and for all shall say that 'till we part and fall, that I'll be proud when you and I stand before a crowd with our diplomas in hand.

Last Name First, First Initial

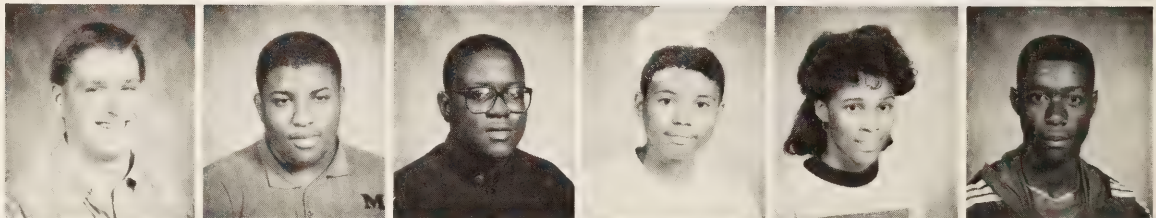

That's the phrase every student heard as they passed the photographer's staff station in the auditorium that first week in September. No one was sad about missing a few minutes of English. The whole place was electric as excited students prepared themselves to go on the stage to hear the photographer say "OK! Sit down, put your feet on the tape, turn left and keep your head straight at the camera and say "MEN!" Of course, for the guys he said, "Say woman". That was enough to make most guys smile from ear to ear.

Flash bulbs blown, students left wondering how their pictures would turn out.

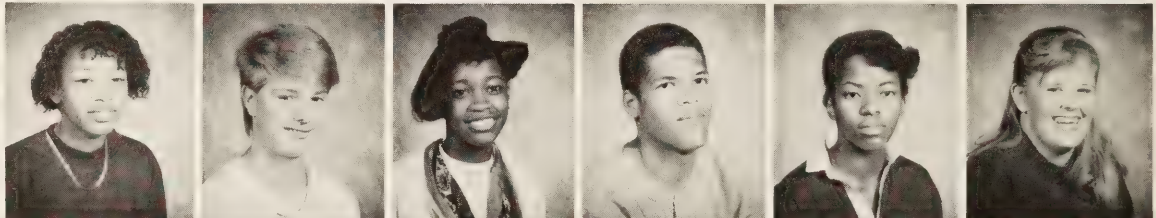

WITH MIRRORS IN HAND, Mike Faherty, Susan Stanton, Dina Snead, and Dwayne Reese of Mrs. Haltiwanger's 11th grade English class pay before having pictures taken.

EVERYONE ENJOYS a good label. These guys, Mike Kernodle, Reggie King, Chris Dyer, and Scott Jackson, have theirs. If you want a good label in tires, go see Jim Wilt at Wilt Tire & Service.

MR. DRUMMOND checks to see if his "nasty children" have done their homework. If they didn't do their homework, they risk being put on his "Le Nasty List". If they do their homework, they might get the pleasure of listening to him play one of his many musical ties.

NOT ONLY do these cheerleaders show spirit, they also show a lot of love for one another. They've been through a lot together and this has created a strong bond of friendship that no one can break.

JROTC STUDENTS
ENRICH THEIR SCHOOL
EXPERIENCE AS THEY
FUTURE.

The Apprentice School of Newport News Shipbuilding is an opportunity for advanced education with two big differences: You're paid while you learn. And you're virtually assured of a good job when you graduate.

Four-year apprenticeships in 20 highly skilled trades are offered tuition-free to qualified young men and women. Students receive in-depth classroom knowledge and hands-on skills instruction from qualified and experienced educators. And all apprentices are paid for their 40-hour week, including time spent in the classroom.

The Apprentice School also supports extracurricular activities through excellent social, community service and recreational programs, and nine inter-collegiate sports—football, basketball, baseball, track and field, wrestling, golf, tennis, cross country, and soccer.

Graduate apprentices receive certificates from the Virginia Apprenticeship Council and Newport News Shipbuilding. After graduation, the company offers a number of programs for continued education and career development.

Think about it. Earn while you learn at The Apprentice School of Newport News Shipbuilding, the world's greatest, most diversified shipyard, now building complex submarines and giant aircraft carriers for the U.S. Navy.

Apprenticeship is the alternative that works. And pays!

THE APPRENTICE EXPERIENCE AT NEWPORT NEWS SHIPBUILDING.

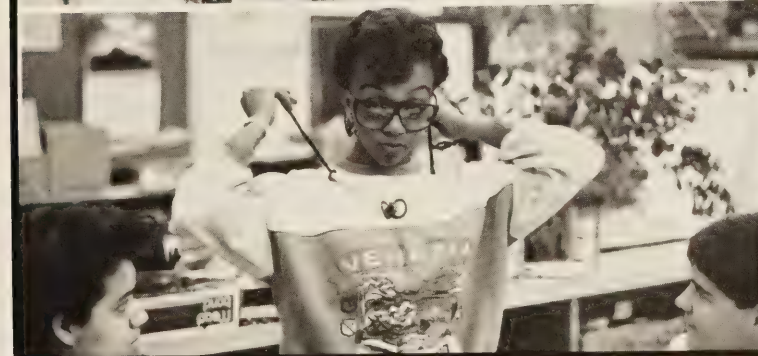

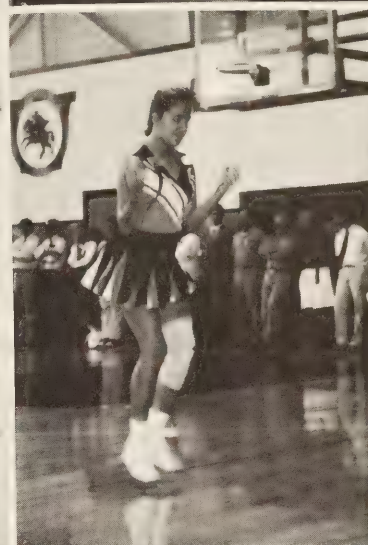

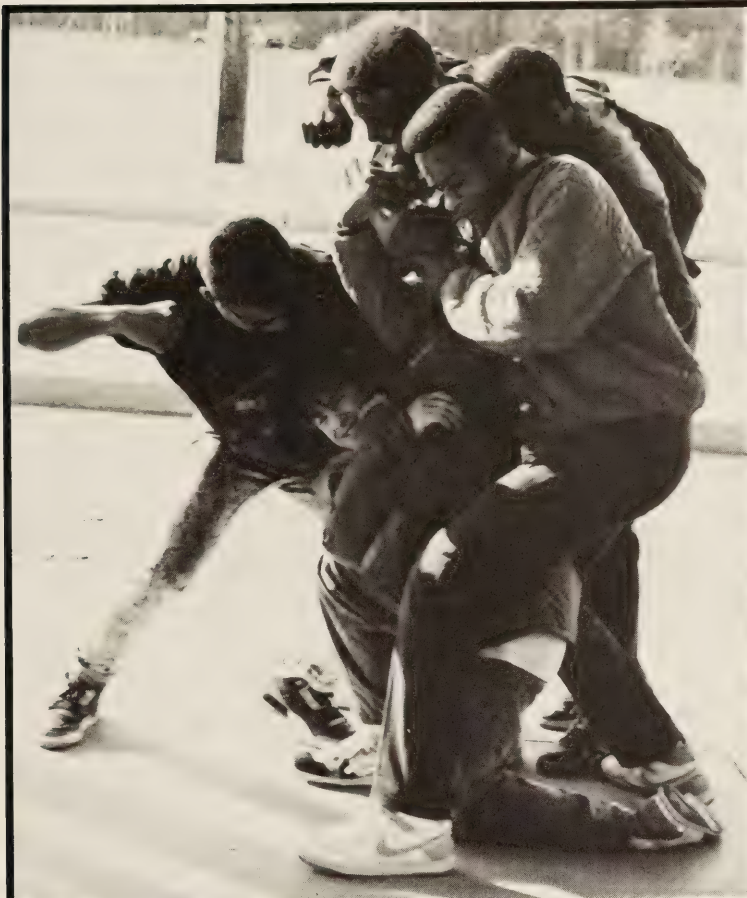

AN ALTERNATIVE THAT WORKS. AND PAYS.

Newport News Shipbuilding
Committed to Quality.

WORKING LATE, Chris Newton puts the finishing touches on an underclassmen layout. Chris was one of the three students who completed the first deadlines.

FINISHING UP a layout, Mary Anne Hall, editor, takes a break to answer a question. Mary Anne attended a workshop at UVA to prepare her for the tremendous job she had.

Appreciation

Volume 66 of 'The Warwick' was printed by the Josten's Printing and Publishing Co. of Clarksville, Tennessee. The sales representative was Sam James. The press run consisted of 500 copies of 160 pages including 16 pages color and a 16 page summer supplement. The typeface and copy of the captions was Century Schoolbook. The headlines were Gothic Bold, Jefferson, or Century Schoolbook. The paper is quality gloss, the color pictures were laser separated and the ink was first quality black. The artwork for the cover was done by the illustrious Aaron Taylor. The senior and underclass portraits were taken by Tom and Frank Knox of Max Ward Delmar Studios. Tom and Frank also took sports pictures. The rest of the pictures were taken by volunteers: Tim Bland, Chris Newton, Kim McLaurin, Danny Campbell, Johnny Gribble, Shenita Banks, Shennetta Potts, Mr. Fields, and Granny Luther. All of the candid shots were developed and processed by USA Photo. We would like to thank all of the Saturday and afternoon volunteers who helped with layouts, cropping, writing copy, and naming students. Volunteers were: Kim Hairel, Amy Redman, Brandon Peiler, Shenetta Potts, Joseph Mounts, Heather Mounts, Gary Forrester, Jim Talbot, Steve Carpenter, Becky Hall, and Mrs. Gerry Wegener. We thank all those who missed lunch like Renee Brett, Katherine Beane, Teresa Garren, and Korey Harris. Thanks to Ms. Sievert's 3rd period genetics class for helping with 3-R's and copy. Thanks also, to Ms. Sievert's aides, Temple Gatewood, Jan Alderman, and Kim Knox, who spent endless hours typing, running copies and proofreading. Our thanks to Commander Wheeler for teaching us the computer program and to Mrs. Anderson for use of the computer lab. Thanks to the following: Mrs Alford for typing everything for the 1st deadline, to the librarians for use of their equipment, to Ms. Maye for receipting orders, to Mr. Drummond, Mrs. Jordan, and Mrs. Lowe for selling the most yearbooks, to Mrs. Carter for the typewriter, to Mrs. Scott for pictures, to Mr. Keesecker for developing pictures, to Frances Ford for running errands and for delivering over 350 passes, to Carol Thompson for the student lists, and last but not least, thanks to Mr. Ed Way for all the support and more. Editor: Mary Anne Hall; Production manager: Ford Porter; Copy manager: Linda Williams; Business manager: Renee Brett; Section Heads: Todd Hudson, Lea Johns, Ed Langslow, Cara Rich, Kim Wolf, Barbara Higgins, Angela Winfree, and Melvina Watkins.

THE ANNUAL STAFF (L. Johns, A. Winfree, M. Hall, L. Williams, R. Brett, M. Watkins, E. Langslow, T. Hudson, and B. Higgins) works diligently selecting pictures for the final deadline.

IN THE BEGINNING when the staff needed it most, we received help from Tim Bland. Tim was a photographer who was always there, even if it meant coming back late to take photos for 'Back To School Night'.

MAKING PEOPLE PAY was on Barbara Higgins mind as she looks up student names and homerooms for yearbook installments during February. Most of the yearbooks were purchased early for the $5.00 savings.

ATTENDING THE CHRISTMAS CONCERT is just one way to support your school. Heather Mounts, one of the youngest members of the annual staff, was one of the crucial members during those last deadlines.
